Sandeep Shamasunder

Global Health and Development Growth Strategist

International development professional with expertise in strategic planning, business development, communications, and marketing

sshamasunder@gmail.com

Linkedin

Contact

13 Years of experience

Professional Bio:

Sandeep is an international development professional with expertise in strategic planning, business development, communications, and marketing. He has helped organizations analyze markets, build and manage pipelines, identify investment opportunities, and develop ambitious and pragmatic growth strategies. His work with leading development implementing partners has often focused on positioning and engagement with key clients and partners including government agencies, international institutions, foundations, and private sector companies. He has extensive experience leading and supporting all aspects of capture management, proposal development, and coordination including technical and cost proposal development, partner

Skills & Expertise:

Localization / Capacity Strengthening; Global Health; Proposal Writing; Stakeholder Engagement; Private Sector Engagement; Strategic Planning; Digital Development / ICT4D; Conflict & Stabilization

Sectors of Work:

International Development; Public Health; Economic Growth; Democracy & Governance; Technology & Innovation

Languages Spoken:

English

engagement, recruitment, market research and intelligence, and competitor analysis. Sandeep has rolled out and improved capture and proposal processes, templates and tools, and mentorship and training programs.

With a focus on global health, Sandeep has helped design winning programs across HIV/AIDS, malaria, FP/RMNCH in health systems strengthening, quality of care, policy and advocacy, information systems and data use, supply chain, and capacity development. He effectively collaborates with subject matter and country experts to translate technical frameworks and tools into compelling win strategies. With experience in democracy and governance, post conflict transition, agriculture and market systems, and economic growth, Sandeep also brings cross-sectoral understanding and innovative thinking to solution development.

JOIN US

contact@wice.org.

WICE